

Sunday School Convention Entertained.

The Baptist Sunday school convention for Western Marion Association, convened in the Presbyterian church at Dunnellon Saturday, R. L. Turner, of Inverness, moderator. Everything appeared to work in harmony and love. The topics were ably discussed. Dunnellon made herself equal to the task assigned in the way of entertaining the convention. Sunday at 12 o'clock dinner was spread on the lower floor of the large Masonic hall. The tables were all heavily laden with the richest of foods and that in large quantities.

Promptly at 1:30 the bell rang for the afternoon session, when the large congregation reassembled in the church to hear the address of Mrs. Kate Robinson on the work of the W. M. W. Her article was fine, and highly enjoyed by the crowded house. Rev. Mr. Simmons made several very appropriate comments on it.

The next on the program, "Resolved, That it is right for members to patronize their own Sunday school if convenient," was discussed by Rev. W. J. Folks and I. N. Rawls. This appeared to be a case of a "short horse easily curried," and was soon over without any argument.

Adjournment was next in order, singing, God Be With You Till We Meet Again. Before the closing of this hymn, Deacon L. L. Akin, of the Heidville church, extended an invitation to all to come forward and give him their hands in token that they had been greatly renewed by the convention.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty, of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was yellow audice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful stomach and liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 25c. Sold by Garrett & Gerig Druggists.

Murder Trial in Sumter.

William J. Lane is on trial in the Sumterville court charged with the murder of George F. Offerman. Both the defendant and the dead man are prominently connected in the state. Mr. Lane is a nephew of Messrs. Eugene A. A. and W. S. West. He is a young man about twenty-five years of age, and is well liked, and is a special favorite of his relatives. He had a good reputation at the time of the homicide.

Mr. Offerman the man who was killed was a brother-in-law of F. R. Steadman, one of the proprietors of the Enfield Mill Company.

Some of the ablest legal lights of the state are retained in the case. The defendant is represented by Congressman Robt. W. Davis, of Palatka; Robt. A. Burford, of Ocala; Col. W. S. West, of Valdosta; W. F. Himes and J. B. C. Koonce, of Sumterville; while the state is represented by Syd L. Carter, Alfred Abrams and Stark S. Marsh. Mr. Otto Butterwick, of Brooksville, is employed as the stenographer.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Canterville, Iowa. "I thought I would surely die, and I tried a dozen different medicines but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely." This remedy is for sale by Anti-Monopoly Drug Store.

Methodist and Wine.

The Methodist church of the United States, both the north and the south, has very strict rules of conduct for its laymen and still stricter ones for its clergy.

The English Methodists are much more liberal in this respect. Consequently many American Methodist ministers who attended the recent ecumenical conference in London were greatly surprised to see English Methodist ministers and their families use wine and beer at their tables. They learned that this custom is prevalent among British Methodists, both clergy and laity. The American Methodist commented upon it to some extent while they were abroad and their doing so has called forth retorts from some of their British brethren. Rev. John Bond, secretary of the ecumenical conference, said in a newspaper interview:

"They have made remarks, though I do not mean to say they have been unkindly ones, on the matter. My answer is that this is a free country. America is not. We reserve the right to drink alcoholic liquors in moderation, if we wish. The American dictum would be ruled out by Wesley, who drank wine to the end of his life."

Some of the Methodist periodicals in this country are rather severe in their comments on the wine-drinking habits of Methodists in England. A great majority of Methodists in this country would lose confidence in a minister of their church who indulged habitually in wine or beer, and he would probably be tried and dismissed from the conference to which he belonged. The smoking or chewing of tobacco by one of their ministers is regarded with disfavor by most American Methodists. Though they hold the same articles of faith there is a decided difference between American and British Methodist on matters of church discipline.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine, and to-day she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infalible for coughs and colds. 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by Garrett & Gerig. Trial bottles free. 6

Alachua County Dry.

At the meeting of the board of county commissioners for Alachua county last Tuesday permits for the sale of liquors, wines and beer were refused and that county is now as dry as a bone. It is claimed that the county was voted dry in an election held on the 20th day of September, 1887—fourteen years ago. Judge Bullock in a recent decision said the dregs had "slept too long on their rights." It seems that Judge Bullock's decision had the effect of arousing them from their Rip Van Winkle slumber. Judge Bullock has been asked to mandamus the commissioners and compel them to issue permits. The case is being heard at chambers in Sumterville.

You Can Lead a Horse to water but you can't make him drink.

You can't make him eat either. You can stuff food into a thin man's stomach but that doesn't make him use it.

Scott's Emulsion can make him use it. How? By making him hungry, of course. Scott's Emulsion makes a thin body hungry all over. Thought a thin body was naturally hungry didn't you? Well it isn't. A thin body is asleep—not working—gone on a strike. It doesn't try to use its food.

Scott's Emulsion wakes it up—puts it to work again making new flesh. That's the way to get fat.
